Privacy Policy for AutoTraffic

Last Updated: January 28, 2026

Introduction

This Privacy Policy explains how AutoTraffic ("the App", "we", "us", or "our") handles information when you use our mobile application. AutoTraffic is a Queensland traffic law penalty calculator that provides general information about traffic offences, penalties, and disqualification periods under Queensland legislation.

We are committed to protecting your privacy. This policy describes our practices regarding any information that may be collected through your use of the App.

About Us

AutoTraffic is developed and provided by an independent developer based in Brisbane, Queensland, Australia ("AutoTraffic Developer").

Information We Collect

Information You Provide

AutoTraffic does not require you to create an account or provide any personal information to use the App. The calculator function operates entirely on your device. When you input information such as offence type, licence category, BAC readings, or prior conviction history to use the penalty calculator, this information is processed locally on your device and is not transmitted to us or any third party.

Automatically Collected Information

Software Updates: The App periodically connects to our server to refresh legislative data and penalty unit values to ensure the information remains current and accurate. When your device connects to our server for this purpose, our server may incidentally receive your device's Internet Protocol (IP) address as part of the standard internet communication process. We do not use this information to identify you, we do not store IP addresses, and we do not use this information for any purpose other than delivering the requested data update to your device.

No Analytics or Tracking: The App does not use any third-party analytics services, advertising frameworks, or tracking technologies. We do not collect usage statistics, device identifiers, or diagnostic data.

Information You Choose to Share

If you choose to contact us to report an issue or provide feedback using the email address provided in the App, any information you include in that communication will be received by us. We will use such information solely to respond to your inquiry and will not use it for any other purpose.

How We Use Information

We do not collect personal information through the App. The calculator inputs you provide are processed locally on your device to generate results and are not transmitted to us.

Information Sharing and Disclosure

We do not sell, trade, rent, or otherwise share any personal information with third parties because we do not collect personal information through the App.

Data Retention

Because we do not collect personal information through the App, there is no personal data for us to retain. Calculator inputs exist only in your device's temporary memory during your use of the App.

Data Security

Although we do not collect personal information, we have designed the App to process your calculator inputs locally on your device, ensuring that sensitive information about potential traffic offences remains under your control and is not transmitted over the internet.

Children's Privacy

The App does not knowingly collect any personal information from anyone, including children under the age of 16. The App is intended as a general information tool about Queensland traffic law and is not directed at children.

Your Rights Under Australian Law

The Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) and the Australian Privacy Principles regulate how organisations handle personal information. Because AutoTraffic does not collect personal information, most obligations under the Privacy Act do not apply to the App's operation. However, if you contact us directly via email, we will handle any personal information you provide in accordance with the Australian Privacy Principles.

You have the right to request access to any personal information we hold about you, request correction of any inaccurate personal information, and make a complaint about our handling of your personal information.

International Users

The App is designed primarily for users seeking information about Queensland, Australia traffic law. If you access the App from outside Australia, please be aware that any email communication you initiate with us will be received in Australia.

Changes to This Privacy Policy

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time. We will notify you of any changes by updating the "Last Updated" date at the top of this policy. We encourage you to review this Privacy Policy periodically.
